3. Timeline: Analysis completed for this paper. Draft due to International Journal of Epidemiology by January 31, 2000.

4. Rationale:

The data for this paper was presented at the International Epidemiological Association meetings in Italy in August 1999 as part of a symposium of CHD surveillance projects (primarily MONICA projects). The data presented were CHD trends in the ARIC communities from 1987 through 1996. In addition, data was presented comparing ARIC trends with that published from MONICA, with ARIC event definitions modified to mimic those of MONICA.

The organizers of this meeting have developed a proposal to submit papers from each of the speakers for publication as a supplement to the International Journal of Epidemiology. The guest editors will be Rodolfo Saracci, Robert Beaglehole, and Salvatore Panico.
